AVIATOR MISSING

Fear Expressed That Grace May Be Lost in North Sea

London, Dec. 23.—There was no news this afternoon of the fate of Cecil S. Grace, an American aviator, who disappeared in the fog while attempting a record flight from Calais, in France, to Dover yesterday.

It is feared that he fell into the North sea. A great fleet of motor cars were out all night searching every nook of the east coast of England, while warships scattered along the shores and dotting the North sea swept the waters with wireless inquiry concerning the aviator. These futile efforts continued today.

Grace went out for the Baron de Forest prize of $20,000, offered to the British aviator who, in a British-made aeroplane, should cover the greatest distance, including the passage of the English channel, during the present year.

T. Zepewich had set a mark of 174 miles, Graham White prepared for the competition, but wet with a serious accident before he could get under way. The days during which the record of Zepewich might be eclipsed were few, and Grace decided to try yesterday in the face of adverse weather conditions. A heavy fog hung over the channel, and obscured the aviator soon after he ascended at Dover. He crossed the channel safely, and two hours and a half from the start passed over Calais. He reached the Belgian coast and was going fast after Zepewich's figures when he encountered adverse winds that compelled him to turn back. He alighted west of Calais.

At 2.10 o'clock, again ascending, he pointed his aeroplane toward Dover.

Grace was soon again enveloped in the fog that had become dense. Those who saw the start say he took a northeasterly course. It is evident he lost his bearings, for had he the proper direction he would have reached Dover without trouble, for he had the power and his aeroplane must have behaved well. Instead of approaching Dover, however, he was sighted later, far to the northeast, over the Goodwin Sands, the exceedingly dangerous shoals which extend off the southeast coast of England, some seven miles east of Deal.

At this point the aviator made a grave mistake in his reckoning, for he went to the east and was last seen heading over the North sea. At this point he was swallowed up by the fog, and since then, except for the negative inferences to be deduced from the absence of news, nothing whatever has been heard of him.

A false report that he had landed at Deal for a time cheered anxious friends, but when this was disproven every possible recourse was appealed to find him.

This afternoon his friends clung to the hope that the aviator, through a discovery of his error in reckoning or by some lucky chance, had reached the coast of Suffolk or Norfolk, while the more optimistic talked of a record flight terminating in the north of England.

Many vessels arrived from the North sea during the day, but none brought word of Grace. Particular interest is felt in the present adventure, as the aviator is a sportsman rather than a professional flyer. He has broken no world's records, but has made some notable flights.

He was born in Chile about 20 years ago, the son of the late John Grace & Co. of New York.

Former Mayor Grace of the American metropolis was his uncle. He was graduated from Columbia university and when his parents came to this country to live he studied at Oxford. He first attracted attention when his aeroplane suddenly appeared out of the haze and maneuvered over the British warships anchored off Sheerness. The start that he gave the navy emphasized the possibility of airplanes as instruments of war.

He used a Wright machine at the time and after leaving the harbor flew 50 miles in 51 minutes, rising at one time to a height of 1,500 feet. This was on April 30 last, and more recently he had given several splendid exhibitions.

DR. FLEXNER CURED.

New York, Dec. 23.—Dr. Simon Flexner, head of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, has been discharged as cured from the Presbyterian hospital after an operation for appendicitis.

He went under the surgeon's knife on Dec. 3. For a short time after the operation his condition was serious, but he quickly took a turn for the better and then recovered rapidly.

WILL GUARANTEE AGAINST NURSERY STOCK DISEASES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—A radical enlargement of the scope of the nursery stock bill by the house committee on agriculture is probable. The committee has already ordered a favorable report on the bill, which authorizes the secretary of agriculture to quarantine against any country or any part of a country where dangerous diseases of nursery stock exist.

Special Agent Grubb of the department of agriculture has just returned from Germany with news of a dangerous root disease.

The committee probably will amend the bill so as to include all kinds of trees, shrubs and vegetables.

INHERITANCE TAX ON ESTATE OF MRS. RUIZ

New Rochelle, N. Y., Dec. 23.—A check for $440 has just been turned over to the representative of the state controller here as inheritance tax on the estate of Mrs. Mary Agnes Ruiz, who committed suicide in London, England, on May 16, 1909. She spent considerable of her time previous to going to London at her country estate at Rye, N. Y.

The total value of the estate she left, as shown by the appraisal, is $60,776. She had in the bank a balance of $1,998, while the furniture she had at her London home brought a sale of $31,278. She left no will, and her brothers, Charles L. O'Brien of St. Louis, and Frank D. O'Brien of New York, inherit the estate.

GLAZIER IS IMPROVING

Man Held Under Ruins in Philadelphia Fire May Recover

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—The number of dead as a result of the leather factory fire of Wednesday night stands at 14, with all firemen and policemen accounted for.

Reports from the hospitals were encouraging today, and it is believed that the injured will recover.

The condition of William Glazier, who was pinned beneath the ruins for more than 12 hours, and who was taken out alive, is much improved.

RECALL IN SEATTLE.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 23.—The petition of the recall of Mayor Hiram C. Gill was found last night to contain more than enough names to insure the holding of a recall election.

WORLD'S MARKETS

MARKET A FRACTION LOWER AT THE CLOSE

New York, Dec. 23.—Fractional declines were noted in the value of business characterized by the opening of the stock market today. After a very different opening the market shaded a trifle but the movement was so narrow that even the most skillful trader would have found it difficult to scalp an eighth here and there.

The approach of the prolonged holiday and the various factors hanging over the market were sufficient to restrict operations to a nominal basis. Comparisons with yesterday's closing figures showed prices a fraction lower, with steel monopolizing the business.

CHRISTMAS MADE DARK

By the Chicago Fire Disaster—No Santa Claus For Many

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Fire Marshal Horan, who lost his life in the stockyards fire yesterday, told the city council building committee last Wednesday that he did not care how high buildings were in the downtown districts but that what was needed was better buildings at the stockyards.

The marshal was a great lover of children. In his desk at the city hall yesterday were more than 100 requests for the flooding of back lots for skating rinks. Each letter bears the O. K. of the dead chief, who was planning to send out members of the department to hasten the making of rinks so that Chicago's youngsters might enjoy their Christmas vacation to the full.

"We are going to have an old-fashioned winter," said the chief a day or two ago, "and I am going to give the kids of Chicago the skating of their lives."

Horan was a baseball enthusiast and witnessed most of the big league games in this city.

He also went to Philadelphia as the guest of President B. B. Johnson of the American league, during the winter series.

In place of happy Christmas gatherings there will be funerals in many Chicago homes. One of the most titanic aftermaths of the stockyards fire is the scene in the home of William Weber, a member of engine company No. 59, and one of the victims. His company was one of the first at the fire, and he was killed by the falling of the first wall. When his bruised and blackened corpse was taken from the ruins three little letters to Santa Claus in children's handwriting and a list of presents he was to buy were found in his pocket. He was to have been off duty at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and had intended spending the day on his vacation.

Word of his death was taken to his home at 10 o'clock. In the parlor of the home his widow and three children were busy unpacking household furniture, they having just moved into the home. A Christmas tree had been one of the first things to be put up in the parlor. At noon, when the body was taken to the home, the little tapers that had stood unlighted on the tree were lighted and placed on the head of the coffin.

Instead of the family reunion and a merry Christmas which was to have been celebrated in the home of William Moriarty, the funeral service will be held over the body of Albert J. Moriarty, member of truck company No. 11, who perished in the fire. William Moriarty, a member of a southern baseball team, and George, third baseman of the Detroit Tigers, both of the dead firemen, reached the fire line to see the burning of bodies taken from the ruins, and a few minutes later identified that of their brother.

NO VERDICT IN WARDLE CASE

The testimony in the case of Ezra J. Wardle against Ralph E. Hoag, was concluded in Judge Greenwood's division of the district court last night at 9 o'clock, and at 11:30 this morning the case was submitted to the jury for consideration. At a late hour this afternoon, a verdict had not been agreed upon.

Mr. Hoag testified that when the accident occurred he was operating his automobile as carefully as possible and that he was traveling at a low rate of speed. He said he traveled behind the plaintiff, who was driving a horse attached to a hayrack, for a considerable distance, awaiting opportunity to pass him without danger.

Mr. Hoag also stated that he did not know the boy was injured until the next morning, when he went out to see him and his mother.

Judge Greenwood being desirous of leaving the city this afternoon, he had the attorney stipulate that the verdict of the jury may be reported to Judge Howell.

THE MUSIC WAS FURNISHED BY THE CONGRESS ORCHESTRA, AND WAS PARTICULARLY PLEASING. A NUMBER OF PERSONS CONNECTED WITH THE SUGAR DANCE ATTENDED BY MANY.

CONGRESS HALL WAS THE SCENE OF THE AMALGAMATED SUGAR COMPANY'S annual dance last night, and a very enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

The music was furnished by the Congress orchestra, and was particularly pleasing. A number of persons connected with the sugar industry were present.

The dancing continued until 1 a. m. today.

GUN BOAT FOR CHINA TO BE BUILT HERE

Washington, Dec. 23.—American naval shipwrights have managed to secure another contract from abroad. Though the boat is a little one, being a training cruiser of 2,000 tons for the Chinese navy, it is believed to be the precursor to other orders.

The contract, the signing of which the state department has just announced, is probably the result of the visit to this country last summer of the Chinese commission headed by Tsai Hsun.

EXPORT AND IMPORT TRADE.

Washington, Dec. 25.—An increase in the exportation of manufactured commodities and a decrease in the exportation of foodstuffs last month is noted in figures compiled by the bureau of statistics and made public today. Flour, wheat, corn, hams and shoulders, bacon, fresh beef and live cattle show a marked decrease for November when compared with the like month and the eleven months ending with November of last year.

The exports of corn show an increase for the eleven months ending with November, but for the month itself a decrease is noted.

Manufactured articles, on the other hand, show, in practically all cases, increases. Lumber, agricultural implements, builders' hardware and tools and numerous other commodities show greater exports, both for the month of November and for the eleven months ending with that month, when compared with the corresponding periods of last year.

The total domestic exports for November, 1910, are valued at 2,041 millions of dollars as compared with 1,917 millions for the same month last year. The exports for the eleven months ending with November, 1910, amounted to 1,624 millions. For the corresponding eleven months of last year, the total domestic exports aggregated 1,531 millions of dollars.

INSANE GO SHOPPING

Use Better Judgment Than Most Shoppers In Their Purchases

St. Louis, Dec. 23.—Superintendent J. Atkins of the city asylum for the insane believes insane persons show better judgment than most shoppers in making their Christmas purchases.

He is conducting an interesting series of experiments by permitting ten of his patients each day to mingle with shoppers in big department stores.

"The women bring their purchases to me for inspection," he said yesterday, "and I find that in almost every case they have bought real bargains."

Each group of patients is escorted through the downtown district by an attendant. The attendant does not wear the garb of a nurse, and there is nothing about her charges to indicate whence they came. Dr. Atkins says the shopping outings have a salutary effect on those who have been permitted to indulge in them.

Normal shoppers do not know they are rubbing elbows with the insane, and since the experiments began a week ago, there has not been a case in which a patient did anything to attract attention to her mental infirmity.

CHRISTMAS TREE FOR ALL

The Elks of this city have made arrangements to have a huge Christmas tree for the poor children at 2336 Washington avenue, next Monday, from 11 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The committee having the affair in hand state that they have purchased 100 pounds of candy and about 600 pounds of nuts to be given to the children on that day.

A special invitation is extended to all children under 12 years of age to come to the tree and get some good things to eat. The newshy and messenger lads are to be guests of the occasion.

Aside from many things that will be distributed to the children from the Christmas tree, they will be given a ticket to the afternoon matinee, and the expectation is to fill the opera house, and other places where an afternoon matinee will be given, with children.

INSANE MAN USES KNIFE

Patient in Cincinnati Hospital Seriously Injures Nurses

Cincinnati, Dec. 23.—Serious injury to two nurses and two patients and minor hurts to several other inmates of the city hospital resulted today from a life and death fight with an insane man weighing 215 pounds and armed with a knife.

The injured: T. N. Smith, night nurse, tendons and arteries of right severed. E. F. Mitchell, day nurse, artery in right thigh cut, five other stab wounds inside and out.

Will Howe, patient, stabbed in left side below the heart; may die. Ferdinand Hoffman, patient, cuts and bruises over the head, received while being subdued.

Hoffman became violent yesterday and was strapped to a cot. He obtained a knife in some manner and cut his hands, hurling himself on Smith. Mitchell and Howe were cut while endeavoring to subdue him.

William F. Kuhlman, a nurse in an adjoining ward, struck him on the head with a heavy cane.

TELEPHONE KEPT BUSY

Chicago All Excitement During the Big Fire

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Never before in the history of the Chicago Telephone exchange did all exchanges shortly after 8 o'clock. By 9 o'clock the forty-five trunks leading to the city hall private branch exchange switchboard were swamped with calls.

At that time an order was given to every telephone operator in the city to answer all calls from the exchange that Chief Horan and probably twenty of his men had been killed in the fire.

As the busy hours of 10 and 11 o'clock approached and this answer was given, it is estimated, at the rate of 200,000 calls per hour.

The company estimated the total calls for the day at 2,000,000, or nearly 100 per cent above the normal.

RELATIVES OF THE DEAD

Will Be Cared For By the City and People of Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Long before the streams of water had ceased playing on the smouldering pyre in the stockyards, Chicago business men and the city authorities sent out an appeal for relief for the widows and orphans of the firemen who met death in the disaster.

The goal of $50,000 was set, and it was predicted that this would be overstepped. Pledges of more than $50,000 were made last night by business interests in the downtown districts, and an appeal to the public to assist in swelling the fund will be made by a business men's committee today.

Packing concerns in the stockyards district last night made known their intention of subscribing $10,000 each to the fund.

Corporation Counsel E. J. Brundage explained that the firemen's pension fund provides that the widow shall receive $35 a month as long as she remains unmarried, that each child shall receive $8 a month up to the age of 16 years, and that a dependent father or mother shall receive $25 a month, the beneficiaries, however, not to receive a monthly aggregate more than one-half of the salary of the deceased.

SALMON PACK OF ALASKA.

Seattle, Dec. 23.—The combined salmon packs of Alaska, British Columbia and Puget Sound for the season of 1910 show an aggregate output of 2,690,586 cases, the largest "lean" year on record, according to the final figures compiled here yesterday.

The salmon packs run in cycles of four years, there being three "lean" years and one "fat" year. The last "fat" year was 1909.

The 1910 salmon pack brought to Alaska and the Pacific northwest canners approximately $19,000,000.

and musical. The reading by Miss Rouff was well received, and showed zealous labor as well as a comprehensive knowledge of this most difficult art. Miss Cook also received a hearty applause for the splendid interpretation she gave Myra Kelly's clever sketch, "A Christmas Present for a Lady." The musical selections were well done, the chorus work especially showing vocalists of promising ability. When the final strains of the beautiful chorus, "We See the Seasons Changing," had died away, Rev. P. M. Cushman, in his usual earnest and eloquent manner, congratulated the dignified graduates and the dear little children upon the pleasant and profitable day.

He also endeavored to impress all with the true meaning of Christmas, and to urge each and every one to put aside all cares and sorrows and to join with grateful hearts in the song of the angels sang, "Glory to God in the Highest; Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men."

BALDWIN-TURNBULL

Judge at Former Trial Is to Be Called in Notorious Case

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23.—A half dozen other witnesses today held off the Baldwin-Turnbull case in the superior court until afternoon, and served to give Mrs. Lillian Turnbull a few hours of respite before the renewal of her examination. It was announced that before night the case would be adjourned until after the beginning of the new year.

Attorneys for Anita Baldwin Turnbull will place a few more witnesses on the stand to prove that the girl is a daughter of Baldwin, and the defense will then launch its efforts to prove that her mother's sworn statements concerning "Lucky" Baldwin's alleged contract of marriage to her were perjured testimony.

Foundations for this purpose were partly laid in the closing hours of the session yesterday. When the turn of the defense comes after the holidays, former Judge Charles Slack of San Francisco, who was the presiding judge in the seduction case against Baldwin, will be called in an attempt to prove that all the main points of Mrs. Turnbull's testimony in the present case are false. All of the court officers who had anything to do with the exhibits offered in evidence during the former trial, successful $75,000 seduction suit in 1896 will be called to support the evidence of Judge Slack.

Nearly all the exhibits consist of letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Turnbull to the former trial, according to the record, she admitted them to be genuine, but in the present case she has branded virtually all of them as forgeries or doctored instruments.

PAWN SHOP MEN ARE GUILTY

Found guilty of not complying with the city ordinances in conducting their business, Dick Treines and Abe Pappé, proprietors of the Montana pawnshop, were fined $25 in police court today. The fine was levied because the pawnshop was not properly licensed, and the men produced an overcoat which they secured as a pawn and then disposed of contrary to law.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of the pawn brokers yesterday, when Joseph Chance and John Newman, two young men residing in this city, complained to the police that they had pawned a coat at the Montana store and had failed to get it back when they called for it. On the witness stand the young men swore that the coat had been pawned for $3, but that the garment was worth $50. They stated that when they called for the garment they were told that it had been stolen.

The pawn brokers, after being sworn, stated that the coat had not been pawned by the young men, but sold outright. Treines on the stand admitted that he had received certain articles as pawns and had not given pawn tickets, although this is in violation of the law.

NEW RECORD MADE IN MAIL FROM EUROPE

New York, Dec. 23.—Today will be put down as a red letter day on the calendar of the New York postoffice as marking the largest arrival of mail matter from Europe ever known. Three arriving ocean liners, laden with Christmas necessities and packages, are responsible for the new record.

NICE CHRISTMAS PRESENT.

New York, Dec. 23.—The Central Trust company will give its president, James N. Wallace, a check for $50,000 as his Christmas present. The money was voted by the directors in addition to his regular salary, "as a slight recognition of his services in building the institution."

Mr. Wallace, recently elected to the presidency, began with the company in boyhood as a minor clerk.

PECK RESIGNS FROM MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Announcement was made yesterday that George R. Peck had resigned as general counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company and will be succeeded Jan. 1 next by Burton Hanson, who has been acting as general solicitor for the company.

Mr. Peck has been general counsel for the St. Paul road since 1898. It was said at the offices of the company that he would continue his connection with the legal department, but only in an advisory capacity.

Mr. Peck's retirement is the result solely of his wish to have more leisure time, said one of his aides.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS WERE PREPARING TO SEND THE REGULAR TRAIN OUT AT 1 O'CLOCK TODAY AND TRUST THAT THE LINE IS STILL OPEN.

The rebels are in the hills within a few miles of Juarez, but apparently are making no effort to attack the city.

As the revolutionists went south on the train which they took last night, they may have attacked the town of Casas Grandes, which is the supply point of all the Mormon colonists in that region.

Soldiers were recently sent to Casas Grandes and many arms have been shipped there.

FUNDS OF CHURCH STOLEN.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Theodore Ostrowski, former treasurer of the Polish Roman Catholic union, was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzlement of the society's funds. The warrant against the embezzlement of $32,000 and was sworn to by Stanley Adamkiewicz, president of the society. Ostrowski was released on $5,000 bonds.

CAPTURE A TRAIN

Mexican Rebels May Attack the Center of Mormon Colony

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 23.—Nothing had been heard up to noon today as to what had been done with the train that the insurgents captured south of Juarez last night. The wires were cut, and since then have not been repaired.

Railroad officials were preparing to send the regular train out at 1 o'clock today and trust that the line is still open.

UTAH WOMAN IS WOUNDED

As the Result of a Quarrel Among a Party of Four

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23.—As a result of a quarrel during which robbery was charged, W. H. Harris, a building contractor, shot Mrs. Dagmar Carroll last night.

The woman, who came here recently from Ephraim, Utah, is not expected to live.

A party composed of four was about to start for an automobile ride from a local hotel when Harris complained that money had been stolen from him. He drew a revolver, and when Mrs. Carroll dared him to shoot he fired.

Harris was arrested. At the police station the full amount of money he claimed to have had was found on his person.
